

Protect your paycheck if you are unable to work

Your income is one of your most valuable assets

No one plans on becoming disabled, but a serious illness or injury can strike anyone at any time, and at any age, taking away your ability to earn a paycheck. In fact, more than one in four of today's 20-year olds can expect to be out of work for at least a year because of a disabling condition before they retire.* Disabilities can result not just from accidents, but illnesses such as a heart attack, cancer and stroke. How long can you live on your savings if you became disabled?

The value of Disability Insurance for you and your family

Disability Insurance should be an integral part of your workplace benefits plan — it provides a steady stream of income to ease the financial stress of a disability, illness or injury while you are out of work and not receiving a paycheck.

For just a few dollars a month, you can help to provide financial security for yourself and those who depend on you. And enrolling for Disability Insurance at the workplace is simple and cost effective — with convenient payroll deductions.

Income protection when you need it most

Did you realize that if you became disabled and couldn't work, Disability Insurance provides you with an income until you are able to return to work. Depending on your plan, it can cover things like:

- Starting a family and having a new baby
- Having back pain, digestive disorders, depression or other mental disorders
- Major accidents or life-changing diagnoses, such as diabetes or cancer

If you become disabled, you can count on us

Guardian's Disability Insurance not only provides you with income protection while you are unable to work, but we also have a team of experts that will provide you with guidance and support while you're disabled. We are committed to getting you back on your feet and giving you the attention, vocational rehabilitation and outplacement services you need to give you the best chance of resuming employment.
